

CBS COLLECTION 072 UCLA

by Bill Wrobel

[NOTE: I first worked on the CBS Collection 072 (Deed of Gift # 1) when it was officially opened to researchers, perhaps in May 1989. I did not make note of the exact day. On April 18, 1995 I had an unexpected opportunity to look at the Deed of Gifts document information dated July 1, 1991. Here Robert Drasnin, Head of Music CBS/MTM Studios in North Hollywood, stated that the music section will close soon, so he authorized to send the rest of the old CBS materials to UCLA. The 1st Deed of Gift was in late November/early December 1988. This 2nd Deed of Gift is dated November 1991. CBS Studios at that time was purchased by Sony Corporation that was initiating a belt-tightening policy. So manuscript music scores, timing sheets, log books of original recording sessions, business records, correspondence, reels, etc., were donated to UCLA. I believe there were 466 boxes in Deed of Gift # 2. Boxes 1-36 (the numbering is different now) had scores, timing sheets, etc. Boxes 37-300 had CBS records of recording sessions in three-ring binders. Boxes 326-8 are foreign library recordings. Boxes 329-342 had miscellaneous production correspondence & other documents. Boxes 343-347 had misc. scores with production documents. Boxes 348-9 had photocopies of scores in three-ring binders. Boxes 350-353 had mix productions, some scripts. Boxes 354-374 contained music on tapes in 10 inch hubs or 7 inch reels. Boxes 357-389 had production documents. Boxes 390-393 had published popular sheet music. Boxes 394-397 had business records and documents. Boxes 398-402 had music on tape cassettes. Box 403 had contained scripts of tv shows. Boxes 404-408 had business records. Box 409 had scripts therein. Boxes 410-428 had business records (Twilight Zone). Boxes 429-431 re: Morty Klein (music for shows 10" hubs). Boxes 432-436 contained scripts. Boxes 437-463 had various business records. Box 464 had cassette tapes. Box 465 had loose LP recordings. And Box 466 had misc. music & scripts.

Deed of Gift # 1 (December 1988) had 930 document boxes stored in SRLF.

The cost to process Deed of Gift # 1 (I believe) was $12,845

The cost to process Deed of Gift # 2 (I believe) was $16,014

I will discuss more far more details about the collection of the CBS materials towards the end of this paper when I focus on SPFM's involvement (in collaboration with UCLA Music Library).

The document deeding the material to UCLA Regents stated, "I, we, Mr. Brian Higgins of Media Reports, Inc., 6605 Hollywood Blvd, 90028 are the owners of the property described as follows: 466 cartons of manuscript scores and parts, timing sheets, cue sheets.."[and so forth]..."I do hereby irrevocably assign, transfer, and give all our rights, titles and interests...to the Regents of the University of California."

Harry Heitzer wrote a memo to UCLA on March 7, 1989 regarding a general permission to xerox: "This will serve as CBS's permission for the UCLA Music Library to make copies of materials in the CBS Collection and provide such copies to individuals and institutions for educational and/or personal purposes...” I happily took advantage of this opportunity in the first several months or so when the collection was open to the public. And I’m glad I did, because before you knew it, UCLA decided to ignore this permission from Harry, and change its policy to refuse photocopying of music scores unless you got specific permission from CBS to xerox a specific score. Normally documents such as cue sheets (words) were allowed to be xeroxed, but not music scores as a general rule. I managed to xerox much of Herrmann’s scores already identified and located in the boxes such as the Twilight Zone episodes, several of the old CBS radio scores from the Forties generally (Corwin, etc.), Gunsmoke episodes, some of the Outer Space Suite, Ethan Allen, and so on. The scores I discovered later on over the years that were un-inventoried (such as Police Force) I laboriously hand-copied.

As given earlier, towards the end of this paper I will insert several pages of my detailed personal account of the difficulties I had with the old SPFM management regarding the CBS transcription discs (and later Dats format) that it had in its possession (but not ownership). Read it if you want a short history of how I was instrumental in getting this music back to UCLA where it belonged.

Now: As a general rule, the CBS Music Library of cues are organized in the following seasons (fall thru spring) associated with a certain numeral classification:

- VII (7) = 1956-1957 Season [Binders # 38-39]
- VIII (8) = 1957-1958 Season [Binders 40-41]
- IX (9) = 1958-1959 Season [Binders 42-43]
- X (10) = 1959-1960 Season [Binders 44-45]
- XI (11) = 1960-1961 Season [Binders 46-47]
- XII (12) = 1961-1962 Season [Binders 48-49]
- XIII (13) = 1962-1963 Season [Binders 50-51]

At the long period of my research there, and until relatively recently, there were a series of binders for these Music Library cues (and other CBS materials). Normally the binders were stored in the B-425 Special Collectors Reading Room (cramped in there as it was already!). At the time, there were two binders for each Season/Numeral starting with CBS VII: the larger black binder systematically described each and every cue classified in specific reel numbers; and the smaller companion red binder that detailed cues under composers’ names. Relatively rarely in CBS cue sheets I would find references to CBS VI (6) cues, although I have never found a binder or otherwise series of listings derived from the VI season (ostensibly 1955-56). It would make sense that there should be because Gunsmoke started in 1955. I have never seen a Gunsmoke cue sheet of any episode from that first season, but I do have Twilight Zone cue sheets that occasionally indicate CBS VI cues. Here are most or all of the examples of such CBS VI cues listed in Twilight Zone episodes from the first three seasons:

Examples of CBS VI Cues (Twilight Zone episodes):

“Escape Clause” (1st Season) airdate November 6, 1959

Black binders were even-numbered while red binders were odd-numbered. Black binders classifying the cues started in black binder # 38 (on the side of the binder was “VII” or Library 7—the 1956-57 season). Its companion binder was red binder # 39 for CBS VII. Black binder # 40 was for the VIII season (’57-’58) while its companion red binder was # 41. Here are examples from red binder # 41 of CBS Library VIII that I researched 4-30-99:

As indicated, each Reel classification was meant for a certain type of music. Here are many examples:

- Reel 23-D “Orchestral Composites”
- Reel 24 “Harp Effects” For example, in CBS VII, we have Miss Annie Challan as the harpist. # 3 is “soft, cascading glissando fantasy” :25. # 5 is “Hard, ascending, arpeggio chords” C-dim (:05). # 17 is “Gliss piano to forte” (:07).
- Reel 26-C “Commercials”
- Reel 27-C “Period Backgrounds”
- Reel 28 “Miscellaneous Soli and Orchestral Effects”
- Reel 29-D “String Effects” (for example, from CBS VIII, “Series progressions” by Wilbur Hatch). It is also indicated on other sheets as “Orchestral Musical Motion Effects.”
- Reel 31 “Snare Soli”
- Reel 32 “Miscellaneous Percussion”
- Reel 33-C “Children’s Material”
- Reel 34-A “Religious Materials”
- Reel 35-D “Miscellaneous Tympani Effects”
- Reel 37 “Fanfares”
- Reel 39-C “Nationalistic Music—Ethnic” For example, “Mariachuchena” (take 1) 3:25 duration.
- Reel 40 “”Restaurant Music: Foreign, Piano, Solo Piano”
- Reel 42 “Restaurant Music—Dance Band”
- Reel 43-B “Dramatic Bridges” For example, #359-A “Police Force Opening” by Herrmann (:27). Reel 43-C (still Dramatic Bridges) has, as an example, “Mexican Arrival” by Fred Steiner, and “Neutral Suspense” (from Collector’s Item # 1) by Paul Baron.

-Reel 44 “Dramatic Punctuations and Flareouts” For example, “Expectation” (cue # 282) in Library IX by Rene Garriguenc. “Dark shock punct. To tail” (:07 duration). Contract July 1957. Another example: “Discouragement # 2” by Lucien Moraweck (cue # 237) last three bars, “Dark brass punct. To soft tail”(:14 duration).

-Reel 45-C “City Backgrounds” For example, in CBS VIII, included is “The Street” (HGWT) by Herrmann (1:05). Also “Mexican Street Tour” by Fred Steiner (:57).

-Reel 46-A “Dramatic Backgrounds” For example from CBS VIII, #361-A “Lead-In” by Herrmann for his Police Force series of cues.

-Reel 47 “Sneaks to Dramatic Tags” In Reel 47-C, cue #187 “Dramatic Finale” by Garriguenc is included (:30). So is M-37 “End Tag” (Have Gun Will Travel) by Herrmann (:12).

-Reel 48 “Dramatic Tags” For example, in CBS X, “Drink of Water No. 10” (take 1) by B. Herrmann (:28). In CBS VIII, Reel 48-A had #360-E “Middle Tag” (E) by Herrmann.

-Reel 50 “Descriptive Seascapes” (or simply “Seascapes”)

-Reel 51 “Western Bridges and Backgrounds and Western Curtains” It is also called “Western Material” in some sheets. For example, in CBS VIII, “Arizona Trail-Riding” by L. Moraweck (1:21).

-Reel 52 “Comedy Material” For example, in Reel 52-C is “Comic Burglar”(cue # 88) by John Leipold (:24). Also “Net Drag” (CBS cue # 78) by Moraweck (:27).

-Reel 54 “Comedy Tags”

-Reel 53-D “Western—Featuring Guitar: Gunsmoke Thematic Material”

-Reel 54 “Comedy Curtains”

-Reel 56 “Suspense Backgrounds and Bridges—Indian Suspense”

-Reel 57 “Romantic Material” Sometimes it is called “Romantic Bridges & Backgrounds.” For example, in CBS VIII in Reel 57-C, we find “Indian Romance” (cue # 295) by B. Herrmann (1:56). “Lyric oboe solo over soft sustained strings.” Take 6. In CBS IX it includes “Summer Love” (CBS cue # 1380) by Jerry Goldsmith (:56).

-Reel 58-D-Three “Dramatic and Anthology Main Titles: Restricted Thematic Material” For example, in CBS X “Twilight Zone Theme” by B. Herrmann.

-Reel 58-D-Six “Hotel De Paree Materials”

-Reel 58-E-One “Have Gun Will Travel”

-Reel 60 series “Comedy Main Titles”

-Reel 61 “Billboard Montages”

-Reel 62 “Military and Cavalry Bridges and Backgrounds” For example in CBS X, 387-16 “Dauber No. 16” by Herrmann):43).

-Reel 63 series “Dramatic Landscapes”

-Reel 64 “Descriptive Pastoral” For instance, in CBS VIII, “Rural Grotesque” (take 7) by Herrmann (:45). “Droll, rural clumsy comedy brass only.” Also #389 “Monday Morning” by Herrmann (take 7) by Herrmann (:35). “Light cheerful winds & strings on western or English folk song; relaxed.”

-Reel 66 “Space Music and Fantasy” For example, in CBS X, “Spinozza” cues by Constant.

- Reel 70 “Single Instruments”
- Reel 71 “Progressive Jazz”
- Reel 72 “Copyrighted Dance Music”
- Reel 73 “Serious Source Music” For example, in CBS IX, “Symphony No. 5—1st Movement” L. van Beethoven (7:50).
- Reel 74 “Panoramics”
- Reel 75 “Indian Material” For example, in CBS X, “Mohawk Plot” (cue # 324).

I will discuss more of the contents of this collection after I have listed the 930 acid-free storage boxes below that constitute the bulk of the collection in Deed of Gift # 1. While this first part of the archive is not currently online for whatever reason (being updated??), you can access the old index of the 930 boxes from the Wayback Machine (web.archive.org):

<http://web.archive.org/web/19970704055624/www.library.ucla.edu/libraries/music/mlsc/cbs/index.htm>

[Box # 1] “Moraweck, Lucien. Foreign Library : folders 101-180; Carlton, Maurice. Foreign Library : folders 101-180; Hatch, Wilbur. Foreign Library : folders 101-180; Skiles, Marlin. Foreign Library : folders 101-180”

[Note: As you can see, there is no great detail here regarding the specific contents of this box! After each box number (for example, [Box # 1]) in brackets, I will immediately encase the UCLA offering in quotation marks describing (or not!) the precise contents of that box. After that I will place in brackets “Note:” and then give the date (s) when I worked on that box (if I still have the dates noted by me). Then I will offer what I have personally researched. It will not be an exhaustive cue-by-cue or folder-by-folder rundown since I usually did not do that (not enough time!) but at least I can verify what was given (at least in part). The font size for the boxes I researched will be 16 (the normal font size of the paper’s text is 12). If I did not place a certain box in the 16 size that means I definitely did not work on it (never pulled it). There will be boxes I pulled but did not make personal notes on the contents (the contents not of interest to me or I lost my research notes, etc.) but will still put it on 16 font size for some, and not do so (leave them at 12 font size for series of other boxes such as the Hawaii 5-0 boxes). Now: There are indeed instances below (in quotation marks) where the boxes are given terrific, detailed treatment by UCLA (such as, for instance Box # 19), and then you get many boxes that are given mere one-liners.

At any rate, here are my own research contributions of the contents of this particular box (Box # 1) that I researched at least on January 13, 1998 when I hand-copied various Garriguenc cues. Of course I did not list every single item in the box (not enough time at the day of research). Note also that the term “Foreign Library” often refers to that period in 1957 when there was a musicians strike in the United States, and recordings had to be done in foreign locations such as Mexico, London, Paris, Munich, etc. But even after that CBS apparently allowed recordings in foreign countries on the sly to save money. This was not technically legal (to avoid union fees, etc.) but I understand it was done nonetheless!]

[Note: Once again, there are no details given, so researchers have to investigate for themselves to see what treasures are inside this box. Of course there are other composers represented in this box besides Rene Garriguenc. I researched this box at least several times, including November 1994 (when I hand-copied cues), October 14, 1996, January 9, 1998, 1-12-98 but also years earlier—I believe July 11, 1995. Another researcher that I’ll simply identify with initials (J. B.) pulled this box on or for March 9, 1995 according to an order slip still attached to the box. Here are the results of my own research (remember that I did not identify each and every cue in the box in my original researches):]

There was no mention of Herrmann above but in fact the rest of the Cimarron Strip episode “Knife in the Darkness” (scored by Herrmann) is in this box (cues 14 thru 22). The other half is in an adjacent box below. See my “Television Works of Bernard Herrmann” for specifics. Herrmann dated the “Wardrobe” cue on Dec 16, 1967. I hand-copied this and other cues on June 9, 1995.

-Scores/cues include “Big Jessie,” “Cattle Camp,” “The Noose,” “Pay-Off,” etc.

-Gunsmoke, “Harriet” Bernard Herrmann dated October 23, 1960. Cues # 3766 thru 3778. Note: I am not sure which box has the autograph score and which one has the copy (# 77 or 112).

-I xeroxed several pages of “The Wake” episode of Gunsmoke (airdate Dec 10, 1960) by Goldsmith. Although “The Visitor” is listed as the episode, this is incorrect since there is no such episode in the series. There is “The Wake” having those cue numbers. Sample cues:

-#3750 (M-1031) “The Grave Digger” Andante in 4/4 time. Bass harmonica, accordion, guitar, and banjo. CBS XII-78-D-1.

-Gunsmoke, “The Blacksmith” Jerry Goldsmith. Airdate Sept 17, 1960 (Sixth season) starring George Kennedy as the German blacksmith who greets a mail-order bride.

Sample cues:

-#3706 (0613) “The Stagecoach” CBS XII 78-E-Ten; XII E Master # 18-1. CPN 5919. Allegretto in $\frac{3}{4}$ time. Flute, oboe, clarinet, bass clarinet, bassoon, 4 horns, snare drums, bass drum, guitar, accordion (tuba switch).

-#3708 (0622) “The Warning” Andante in 4/4 time. The english horn is now part of the mix. Wood mutes are used by the horn players starting in Bar 3.

-Gunsmoke, “Love Thy Neighbor” Goldsmith. Sample cues:

-#3792 “Quiet Night—Love”

-#3793 “The Thief—Part 1”

Note: Tracks of this score and Herrmann's "Harriet" and also "Long Hours, Short Pay" are on a transcription disc at the Gene Autry Western Museum.

- cues # 3891-3900 by Rene Garriguenc
- #3892 “Tragic Loss” Rene Garriguenc CBS 56-E & 43-E
- #3893 “Dead End (Dark neutral build to curtain)” 33 bars, Garriguenc. CBS XII 56-E, XII E master # 22
- #3894 “Final Issue (Dark Neutral Builds to Curtain)” XII 47-E” Garriguenc. CBS XII 47-E, 8 bars.
- #3895 “Tragic Revelation (Shock Chord & Tail)” Garriguenc
- #3896 “Death” by Garriguenc
- #3899 “Hammer Blows of Fate (Tragic Chord & Tail)” Garriguenc
- #3900 “The Empty Hour Glass” by Garriguenc
- #3899 “Hammer Blows of Fate (Tragic Chord & Tail)” CBS XII 44-E

NOTE: This specific cue by Garriguenc was used quite frequently as part of the “Fate” music sequences in the openings of The Fugitive series. Instrumentation: flute, oboes, 2 clarinets, bassoon, 2 horns, 2 trumpets, 2 trombones, 4 violins I, 4 violins II, 1 cello, 2 basses, timp. Violins I play ff Line 3 Bb sforzando-marked dotted half note in 3/4 time tied to (Bar 2 in 4/4 time) whole note decrescendo to (Bar 3) same Bb whole note p tied to whole note next bar (silent in end Bar 5). Violins II play this pattern on Line 3 D/F# notes. The cello and contrabasses play Great octave A sforzando dotted half note tied to half note in Bar 2 (then silent). Pos play this VC/CB pattern on small octave F/G# notes, and trumpets on Line 1 E/G, and horns on Line 1 C# [written G#]. The bassoon plays it on Great octave A dotted half note tied to half note in Bar 2, and clarinets on Line 2 C/Eb, oboe on Line 2 B, and so also the flute. The timp is rolled on Great octave A dotted quarter note to A-A-A 8ths to (Bar 2), after an 8th rest, A-A-A sforzando 8ths (followed by an 8th rest) to A-A-A 8ths (repeated in Bars 3-4). After a quarter and 8th rest in Bar 3, the flute sounds mp Line 2 Eb 8th up to B 8th down to C 8th tied to quarter note (repeated next bar). At the end of Bar 3, the clarinets sound mp Line 1 E [written F#] up to (Bar 4) G 8th down to C# 8th tied to quarter note (followed by two quarter rests) to (end Bar 5) E/G whole notes sounded p and held fermata. After two quarter and an 8th rest in Bar 4, the English horn plays mp < > Line 1 E [written Line 1 B] 8th up to G 8th down to C# 8th tied to whole note held fermata in end Bar 5. The bassoon in Bar 5 plays p Great octave A whole note held fermata. Horns here play small octave F/G# [written Line 1 C/D#] whole notes held fermata.

-Fanfares of various CBS series such as Hotel deParee (Tiomkin), HGWT (Herrmann), Rawhide (Tiomkin), Gunsmoke, Perry Mason, Line-Up. Usually seven staves. Examples are:

-#1784 Have Gun, Will Travel. We see four horns (each horn with a separate staff), 2 Pos in hat, and timp (optional). So the trombones in 2/4 time sound forte small octave D/F rinforzando quarter notes to C#/F rinforzando quarter notes to (Bar 2), after a quarter rest, D/D rinforzando quarter notes to (end Bar 3) C#/F rinforzando quarter notes (followed by a quarter rest held fermata). Etc.

-#1785 The Line-Up. Once again 4 horns and 2 Pos. Pos I plays forte Line 1 Eb-Eb rinforzando quarter notes to C rinforzando quarter note to (Bar 2), after an 8th rest, Eb sforzando stand-alone 8th to Eb-Eb sforzando 8ths (connected by a crossbeam) to C 8th (followed by an 8th and quarter rest).

-#1780 Hotel deParee Same 4 horns and two Pos (in hats) and timp. For example, Pos I sounds f in Cut time Line 1 C quarter note up to Eb dotted half note down to (Bar 2) small octave F quarter note to same F dotted half note crescendo and tied to 8th note next bar (followed by rests).

-#1781 Rawhide. Pos play forte (and in hats) small octave D/F up to F/A quarter notes back to D/F to F/A quarter notes to (end Bar 2) D/F quarter notes (all are rinforzando-marked) to F/A dotted half note decrescendo hairpin.

Last UCLA update: 03/18/96

[Back to April 2010:]

As discussed briefly above at the start of this paper, UCLA Music Library Special Collections Reading Room B-425 also had stacked a series of CBS Music Library binders. I referred to them constantly, especially the (then) black binders and companion red binders for the various television seasons. As given, the black binder # 38 started this particular series thru Binder 51. The black binders were always much thicker with information than the companion red binders. I made a partial inventory of the earlier binders on March 10, 1995.

Binder # 8 had Lost in Space material, dated 9/27/65. I don't remember if an actual score was contained but I do not believe so (otherwise I would've hand-copied some of the cues and had them in my collection now).

Binder # 9 had descriptions of old series such as Gunsmoke, Perry Mason, Storefront Lawyers, and so on.

Binder # 21 had TV Features such as the 1970 Goldsmith movie, Brotherhood of the Bell.

Binder # 23 had Sole Survivor by Paul Glass and Morton Stevens (at least). I believe it was CBS's first made-for-tv movie. It starred Richard Basehart & Vince Edwards. Cost of musicians = $22,182.63. Copying = $3,993.64. Arranging = $1,122.50. etc. total cost = $29,412.77.

Binder # 29 contained CCF features, The Reivers from 1969, featuring the music of John Williams, Henry Mancini, and Lalo Schifrin. Also there was A Man Called Horse by Leonard Rosenman from 1969. The Schifrin contribution was dated 9-27-68; Williams' contribution was dated 10-1-69. Also included in this binder is Hail Hero dated 8-14-69.

Binder # 30 contained more CCF features: Little Big Man from 1969; Scrooge from 1970; Monte Walsh (1970 John Barry); Rio Lobo (dated 8-10-1970 Goldsmith); Big

Jake score (dated 5-12-1971 Elmer Bernstein). Here are sample cues from Monte Walsh, Production # 5044:

-#M-11 “The Good Times Are Comin’” John Barry, lyric by Hal David. Dated 4-17-70 S.C. (Studio City recording date). Lin # 69-CCF075. Orchestra: 36 players + 1 female vocal. 24 strings, harmonica, 2 guitars, fender, etc.

-M-12 “Monte at the Table” Dated 4-16-70

Binder # 31 had Goldsmith’s Fraternity dated 6-8-70 Studio City. 34 orchestra size (30 strings). Cue 1 was titled “The Bell” Lib # 70-CTV-070 Also included is Goldsmith’s Step Out of Line dated 11-19-70 Studio City. The orchestra size is 37 (31 strings). The Main Title is 70-CTV-117. The musicians cost was $16,732.30. I believe also included is December Bride composed by Eliot Daniel, CBS 9-60-D.

Binder # 35 had the score for Tom Sawyer & Huck Finn (dated 1-7-1982 Studio City, James Horner).

Binder # 37 had the pilot score for Hawaii 5-0. Sample cues of this transposed score:

-M-6911 “Cocoon I” 4 bass flutes, gong, timp, piano. :17 ½ duration.

-#021 “King Nam’s Pad” 1:27 duration

-#022 “Floater” Eb Sax, CB. 1:27 duration

-#023 “Ashes” piano, etc. :20 duration

-#024 “Pensive” woodwinds

-#025 “Tail”

-#026 “Clandestine Meeting”

-#028 “Dinner at 8” :32

-#029 “Green Car Chase” 3:35

-#030 “Book Him!” :24

-#031 “Champagne Boss-Frug” {???

-#032 “The Kiss” :33

-#033 “Search” 3:51

-#034 “Enter Big Fuzz” :29

-#035 “No Fat Way” :55

-#036 “Cocoon II” 1:52

-#037 “Hallucinating” organ 3:20

-#038 :Coo-Moo” 4:48

-#039 “Operation Smash” piccolo, etc. 2:23

-#040 “No Fat in Fire” 3”06

-#041 “All’s Well That Ends” 1:47

ETC. I had researched Binder 37 on 4-18-95 at least because I had hand-copied the revised Main Title of the series. The first four bars had the dance drum, tambourine, vibra-slap, and timp. Then in Bar 5 we have the Eb C.C. Sax, 3 horns, 4 trumpets, 4 Pos, dance drum, tambourine, vibra-slap, timp, electric guitar, bass guitar, fender bass, tuba, and electric harpsichord. Then the timbales show up in Bar 12, and two piccolos, flute, 2 clarinets.

Binder # 38 Black binder that started the short series of CBS Music Library cue classifications. This one corresponded, as given earlier, to the 1956-1957 season (CBS VII).

Binder # 39 Red binder for CBS-TV season 1956-57 that is the companion to Binder # 38.

Binder # 40 Black binder for CBS-TV season 1957-58 (CBS VIII). This binder was an important year since several new series began on CBS including Have Gun will Travel and Perry Mason. This year's black binder is definitely larger than Binder # 38.

Binder # 41 Red binder companion for CBS-TV season 1957-58.

Binder # 42 Black binder for CBS-TV season 1958-59 (CBS IX).

Binder # 43 Red binder companion for CBS-TV season 1958-59.

Binder # 44 Black binder for CBS-TV season 1959-60 (CBS X). This was also an important and expanded year since Twilight Zone and Rawhide started this season.

Binder # 45 Red binder companion for CBS-TV season 1959-60.

Binder # 46 Black binder for CBS-TV season 1960-61 (CBS XI).

Binder # 47 Red binder companion for CBS-TV season 1960-61.

Binder # 48 Black binder for CBS-TV season 1961-62 (CBS XII).

Binder # 49 Red binder companion for CBS-TV season 1961-62.

Binder # 50 Black binder for CBS-TV season 1962-63 (CBS XIII).

Binder # 51 Red binder companion for CBS-TV season 1962-63.

Note: Why there were not similar dual binders for later seasons (such as 1963-64 CBS XIV) I do not know. Probably it was not necessary since enough material could be culled from the tapes and transcription discs of the previous seven seasons. Also there may have been other approaches now arranged for "stock music" usage such as the CBS EZ cue system that perhaps was used for The Fugitive series that started in the fall of 1963. I do not know at this minute when the CBS Records EZ Cue Library first came into usage but it used the exact same old black binder descriptions from the earlier seasons and then perhaps added some new ones. For example, EZQ 1-5 is "Comedy Backgrounds & Bridges" EZQ 107 is "Dramatic & Anthology Main Titles" (previously Reel 58 material in the original CBS Library system). EZQ 114 is "City Backgrounds"

(formerly Reel 45 material in the old CBS Library classification). I'll give a full page example from the EZ Cue Library Catalog at the end of this paper.

Binder #52 had information on a Gilligan's Island score by John Williams for 20th Century, dated 4/1/64. There is a cue # list including:

- #1714 "Gilligan's Flight"
- #1715 "To the Woods"
- #1716 "Gilligan's Climb"
- #1717 "Wild Flips"
- #1718 "Down the Tree"
- #1719 "Zoomsville"
- #1720 "Rolling on the Surf"
- #1721 "Who Goes There?"
- #1722 "Skipper's Stake"
- #1723 "Skipper's Snub"
- #1724 "Gabby Girls"
- #1725 "Slidin' & Fishin'"
- #1726 "Fishing Montage"
- #1727 "Long Distance"
- #1728 "Radio Insert"
- #1729 "Help"
- #1730 "End Credits"
- #1732 "The Marina"

Binder # 56 had recording information that including the re-recording of various CBS Music Library cues conducted by Herschel Burke Gilbert on Feb 17, 1965. For instance, Herrmann's "The Glass" cue was recorded again for a Gunsmoke episode (Prod # 1615). The rehearsal was at 4:46 pm, then the print two minutes later. "The Discovery" cue by Herrmann (both from the Collector's Item pilot score) was re-recorded. On another date (March 5, 1965), Herrmann's "Climatic Close" was re-recorded (the cue was originally composed in 1957). It was used for a Rawhide episode (Prod # 2704). Rehearsal was at 3:56 pm. Then Herrmann's "Climatic Middle Tag" and "The House of Prentiss" were re-recorded.

Binder # 57 contained CBS Recording Log for a Rawhide episode, "Encounter at Boot Hill," music by Bernard Herrmann. The recording date at Studio City was 8-26-65. Lib # 65/RH086. Prod # 2704-0958. Herrmann was also the conductor. The first cue was M-11 (1:17 duration). The mixer was Ted Keep. The orchestra size was 13: 9 woodwinds (3 english horns, 3 bass clarinets, 3 bassoons) , 3 brass (3 trombones) , 1 percussion. The music was recorded in mono. The rehearsal started at 1:30 pm. The "comp." Was at 1:38 for that cue. The "playback" was at 1:42 pm. More was recorded on this cue. The M-12 (:16 1/3 duration) cue rehearsal started at 1:57 pm. The comp. Started at 1:59 pm. The M-13 cue (:44 duration) rehearsal started at 2:07. Etc. The last cue of M-64 (XXII "Finale") started the rehearsal at 4:30 pm. The session ended at 4:26 for this 23 second cue.

This binder also included other recording logs such as the Rawhide episode, “Six Weeks at Bent Fork” music by Hugo Friedhofer but conducted by Morton Stevens (dated 8-24-65). The orchestra size was 21 (5 brass, 7 percussion, 4 strings, etc). The session started at 9 am, The first cue was M-11 “The New Job” (Lib # 65/RH062). Then M-12 “Spooked” (RH063). Then M-13 “Lucky Piece” and so on. I believe also in this binder were recording logs for the Rawhide episode, “Clash Broken Bluff” by Billy May. Also “Escape to Doom” by Richard Shores. Also there is a Gilligan’s Island episode by G. Fried (I believe “Sweepstakes”). Then there is a Wild Wild West episode, “Wizard Shook Earth” by Drasnin, and a Gunsmoke episode, “The Raid” of course by Franz Waxman dated 9/16/65.

Binder 83 had the Recording Log for various Gunsmoke recordings in the 1972/73 season. The dated was 8-1-72. Morton Stevens conducted first the “End Title” (1 minute duration) for episode Prod # 1615-9276. The session started at 10:17 am and ended at 10:25 am. Next recording log was the Gunsmoke Opening Cast Credits 1972 dated 8-18-72 Studio City. Duration is 31 seconds. Mono, 8 track. Also included is the “Hostage” episode composed by Elmer Bernstein dated 11-30-72. The first cue is “Honky Tonk” (piano only) :43 duration. Next is “Town” (1:15 duration) with the orchestra size of 19 (6 woodwinds, 5 brass, 2 percussion, 4 strings, and whistling! It’s on Reel 38, Log # 928.

Binder 103 had information on a Hawaii 5-0 episode, “Hookman.” Cue sheet #73-35. Dubbing date 8/31/73. First telecast 9/11/73. Total score time 20:02. Music by Morton Stevens. Cues:

- “Main Title” :57 duration, dated 8-20-73
- “Keoki” 2:30 duration
- “Keoki” 2”04
- “Ookala” 2:00
- “2nd Rifle” 1:04
- “Motivating Jack” :13
- “McGarrett’s Name Plate” :36
- “Jewelers Store Set-Up” 3:25
- “Billboard I Theme # 56” :04
- “Showcard II # 50” :04
- “Chase” :50
- “Stoner Back Home” :37
- “Secret’s Out” :53
- “Photo” :14
- “Foot Work Montage” 2:11
- “To the Roof” 1:04
- “Finale” :47
- “Short End Credits” :29

I believe also in this binder is information on the Hawaii 5-0 episode. “The Miracle Man” composed by Fred Steiner, 1st telecast 12-21-78. Also I believe Morton Stevens’ Storefront Lawyers (pilot) information was there. Also the Hawaii 5-0 episode info, “The Bark & the Bite” dated January 1979. If I am not mistaken from my old notes, the actual score is there. But remember that since those years I researched the binders, am 99% convinced that UCLA disposed of many of the physical binders and inserted the pages in separate boxes in the Deed of Gift # 2 boxes.

For example, I looked at a bunch of these Deed of Gift # 2 boxes:

- Box # 1551 now has the CBS VII cue information.
- Box # 1552 has CBS IX information.
- Box # 1553 has CBS VII and VIII information.
- Box # 1554 Not sure now but I believe this one contains CBS IX and part of X.
- Box # 1555 has CBS X and XI information.
- Box # 1556 has CBS XII information (including Herrmann’s “Harriet” episode for Gunsmoke).
- Box # 1557 has CBS XIII information.
- Box # 1558 has CBS XIV information (including Steiner’s “Call Me Dodie” episode for Gunsmoke).
- Box # 1565 CBS season 1979-1980
- Box # 1597 has binders 1 & 2 dated (in part) 1971. I believe info on Homecoming is in there. Also Hunters are for Killing dated 2-25-70.
- Box # 1598 Binders # 4 & 5. May include Relentless. I noted “Daddy, I Don’t Like It” (perhaps a cue).
- Box # 1601 1965 materials and info on Gunsmoke(etc.), cues, reels I believe plus recording logs.
- Box # 1611 Like Mother, Like Me and also Crisis in Mid-Air dated October 17, 1978.
- Box # 1618 Wild Wild West recording logs 1966-67 season.

- Box # 1640 1965 recording logs from Rawhide, Gunsmoke, etc.

- Box # 1769 Wild Wild West recording logs.

- Box 1778 [Note: I pulled this box on Friday, June 20, 2003] This box was supposed to contain financial documents but instead had reel tapes of a Movie of the Week by Bill Conti from the mid-Eighties.

- Box # 1788 This contains CBS IX and X material. There is yellow paper binding here so it appears to be different from the old binders I worked on, a duplicate. For example, in CBS IX it has Reel 34-A “Religious Materials”. The first cue listed is # 388 “Thomas Wolfe” :00 - :33 “relaxed reflective BG, strings.” Someone annotated (unlike the binders I had) “contract June 1, 1957.” Reel 39 is “Nationalistic Music— Ethnic” such as Tak Shindo. Reel 40-D is Restaurant Music: Foreign, piano, solo piano. Reel 41-D is Restaurant Music: Cocktail Lounge (small combo). This includes Eric Cook. Reel 43 cues are “Dramatic Bridges.” This includes item 3, “The Arrow” from Herrmann’s Collector’s Item (# 2—not the one Paul Baron did). Annotated is “Contract December 21, 1957.” Reel 51 is “Western Bridges & Backgrounds & Western Curtains.” The first selection listed is “The Mesa” by B. Herrmann (contract June 21, 1957). Reel 58-D-One is “Dramatic and Anthology Main Titles.” Included is item 5, “Landmark Finale” by Herrmann (contract March 1, 1956). Reel 58-D-3 is “Restricted Thematic Material.” Included are the “Pursuit Theme” by Herrmann Reel 68-F is “Concrete Music—Electronic Music”. The first item is “Trartonium # 1” by Oska Sala. Contract July 25, 1958 (and other dates) (contract Aug 5, 1958) and Perry Mason “Main Title” by Fred Steiner contract November 2, 1956.

-Box 1790 [I pulled this box on 6-20-03] More detailed “CBS TV Music Editorial” sheets showing timings on scripts, and so forth. Episodes include “The Violent Land” dated 2/9/65 and “Blood Harvest” (dated 1-29-65) and editorials on Gilligan’s Island (“St. Gilligan & the Dragon” dated 1-26-65) and Cara Williams Show (“How to Be happy, Though Married” dated 1-21-65). “Spanish Camp” (dated 4/2/65) is included, so is “El Hombre Bravo” (dated 12/31/64), “Diedhard” (dated 3/18/65), and so forth. All are tied to Rawhide (Prod # 2704).

Also I believe in this box were Perry Mason music credits, progress reports, release schedules in the 1965-66 season. There is a folder on a pilot show, “Did You Ever Have One of These Days?” dated 9-12-66. Also “Run, Buddy, Run” from ’66-’67. Also info on a Wild Wild West episode, “Night of the Undead” dated 2/2/68 (original airdate). But then I also have the date 7-5-68. Guest: H. Hatfield.

-Box # 1805 [Note: I pulled this box on 6-20-2003]. The box includes cue sheets and other information on various 1958 shows. For example:

-Series Title: Lineup (145). First telecast 3/14/58. Producer: CBS-TV. Cue Sheet # 580312-3. Episodic title: “George Case” The first cue is the Line Up Main Title M-10 by Rene Garriguenc, then “Prisoners” M.T. (M-11) by Garriguenc, then “Norman Country Scene” (cue # 263) by Garriguenc, and then “Knife Chord to Tail No. 5” by Moraweck, and so on.

-“Lovie Lawrence Case” Line-Up, dated 1-16-58. Various composers’ cues used including Garriguenc. Then “The Brothers” dated 10-9-56. Then an Eve Arden Show episode, “It Gives Me Great Pleasure” dated 9-17-57.

-Box # 1813 [Note: I also pulled this box on June 20, 2003] Contents include cue sheets for a Studio One episode, “The Left Handed Welcome” dated 6-16-58. It was supervised by Jerry Goldsmith. The first cue is “After the Senior Prom” by Jimmy Duncan. Another cue is I-7 # 1 “Homecoming” by Goldsmith (:10 duration). I-10 # 2 is “Riches” by Goldsmith (:25). I-21 # 3 is “Promise” by Goldsmith (:07). I-21 is “Westinghouse Short Playoff” by Bernard Herrmann (:06). Etc.

Then there is a Studio One episode, “Trial by Slander” airdate 1-20-58. The first cue used is “Opening: Studio One in Hollywood” by Bernard Herrmann (1:30 duration). Another cue is cue #467-R “The Lovers” by Goldsmith (CBS VII 57-A).

Then we have the “Image of Fear” episode dated October 1958. The first cue is M-1, cut 3, “Quartet” by Tchaikovsky. CBS IX-E-28 (3:30 duration). The next cue is M-

2, cue # 257 “West Indies” by L. Moraweck CBS VII 63-A (:08 duration). Then M-2A, cue # 253, “Religious Processional # 1” by Garriguenc. Etc.

There is also the “Edge of Truth” episode dated 4-28-58. Goldsmith composed the music. Cue I-1 # 1 “Edge of Truth” followed by I-3 # 2 “The Bribe”, and so on.

There is also the “Brotherhood of the Bell” episode airdate 1/6/58. Scene: 1976. Various composers, including Outer Space Suite cues by Herrmann.

Also “The Other Place” episode dated 1-13-58. Goldsmith cues here.

Also “Balance of Terror” dated 1-27-58. Germany scene. Includes a script.

Also “The Lady Died at Midnight” dated September 1958 with a live orchestra. I believe it is all Goldsmith but I’m not completely positive.

Also “No Place To Run” episode airdate 9-15-58. Time: 1938. Various composers (stock music).

Also “The Laughing Willow” dated 2/3/58. Lots of classical music such as Strauss waltzes, Schoenberg.

Also “The Tongue of Angels” dated 3/17/58. All Goldsmith music.

Also “Incident in Kurishiki” dated 5-12-58, music by Tak Shindo..

Also “The Funny Looking Kid” dated 5-19-58. The music supervisor was Rudy Schrager. Various composers, opening with Chopin’s Prelude in A major. The next cue is “Nostalgia” (cue # 448) by Amphiteatrof (CBS 8-57-D), 2: 35 duration. The third cue is M-3 (# 439) “Romantic Scene” by Rene Garriguenc. Then M-4 (#318) “Rio Branco” by Garriguenc. Then M-5 (#414) “Pointed” by R. Schrager. Etc.

Also cue sheets for “Enemy Within” dated 5-26-58. Various composers. The first cue (# 281) is “Alert # 1” by L. Moraweck (:40).

Now: If you want to access the Deed of Gift # 2 (“CBS Inc. Film & Television Collection 1955-1883”) Finding Aid, go either to:

<http://WWW.oac.cdlib.org/findaid/ark:/13030/kt8x0nd51b/>

http://WWW.oac.cdlib.org/view?docId=kt8x0nd51b;query=;style=oac4;doc.view=entire_text

Note that the Deed of Gift # 1 (the 930 boxes of written scores and other materials listed above) are not included in this Finding Aid. I find this highly curious. I’ll have to contact UCLA and ask why this is so. wjw Meanwhile you can use the Wayback Machine (web.archive.org) to access the old UCLA index, as given earlier:

<http://web.archive.org/web/19970704055624/www.library.ucla.edu/libraries/music/mlsc/cbs/index.htm>

What I also find curious is that most of the boxes I had pulled for me in 2003 are not mentioned in this Finding Aid (yet at any rate). It’s last update was sometime in 2008 (I am typing this paragraph on Wednesday, April 07, 2010). It states that the Collection will be updated periodically. Well, I hope in the next update they include Boxes 1551 thru 1558 that I had researched because they are not indicated yet. Boxes 1778, 1788, 1790, 1805, and 1813 that I had personally inspected were indicated in the current Finding Aid. It still states that Box # 1778 has “Musicians’ Payroll” although I expected the box and found it did not, as indicated earlier (instead it contains Bill Conti material). It indicates simply that Box 1805 contains “Studio logs & cue sheets 1955?” So there is not much detailed info here!

I copied the two pages of information HTML of the Finding Aid and converted the material into my Microsoft Word. There is currently 938 pages of material to sift through! But a lot of it involves tapes and cassettes. There is very little in terms of written scores, so that is why I am not that terribly interested in laboriously researching the boxes. It would take too long and prove expensive. But I may go back there later in the year when I take a vacation in September and then in October. We’ll see. I am on vacation now but spent my money to research at UCSB (Herrmann Papers).

Now: Back in 4/30/99 at UCLA I copied a lot of cue titles from Red Binder 39 (CBS VII). The most cues contained in that binder were by Rene Garriguenc. There are 150 plus cues listed. I will not go thru them all but will offer a great deal of examples. Note that there are no Bernard Herrmann cues yet for this CBS Library VII (7) but there are plenty in CBS VIII (8)! I have already delineated those in my prior paper “Television Works.”

Rene Garriguenc:

SPFM & THE CBS COLLECTION

Allow me now to elaborate upon of a certain facet of the CBS Collection that involved the old SPFM (acronym for the Society for the Preservation of Film Music), named-changed to the Film Music Society in September, 1997. Perhaps at that general management period, this name change was a distinction without a difference. At any rate, this account is necessary for two reasons: (a) to offer a brief background history of how the CBS Collection got to UCLA and, in part, in the hands of SPFM; and (b) how I was instrumental in getting the audio music from the CBS transcription discs (and later Dats) back to UCLA. Note that this presentation occasionally will reveal a rather unfavorable side of the old SPFM management at the time based on my personal experience. I certainly do not have issues with the present day Society that morphed from SPFM, and in fact I am completely uninvolved with it (not a dues-paying Member, for example), although I notice on the Internet from the Film Music Society website that a few of the Officers/Directors there now were intimately involved way back in the old SPFM. In other words, it is not completely “new blood” there, not a total makeover. But I did have issues with management of the old Society largely under different management back in 1997-1998 related to the CBS material. Let me explain.

Now: While the written music, log books, reel tapes, cassettes (etc.) were kept in possession (and ownership) by UCLA in the Deed of Gifts # 1 and # 2, the 16” transcription discs were not. Information on this was initially fuzzy in my investigations. Either UCLA did not want them (which was quite unlikely considering that all the other sound recordings were accepted) or, most likely in my opinion, there may have been an overlap of allegiances involved with both UCLA Music Library and the old SPFM. A certain Officer (Trustee) of SPFM then was also a long-time employee of UCLA at the Music Library. He was a central figure instrumental in saving the CBS material because otherwise they would have been trashed. He gave quick action to secure the precious CBS materials that would have otherwise been hauled away as “junk,” thus preventing a travesty that occurred two decades earlier at MGM when a similar belt-tightening policy of new management resulted in the literal burial of their scores into a landfill for a golf course.

Specifically, according to a highly informative letter to me by this gentleman dated January 7, 1998, Robert Drasnin (a UCLA Music Department alumnus) phoned him about the immediate availability of the first Deed of Gift materials in late November 1988. The UCLA Music Librarian (again, who was also an official of SPFM) arranged for the UCLA Library Gifts Section to deliver about a thousand acid-free document boxes (930 were used) to the CBS Studio warehouse on Monday & Tuesday, November 29/29. I believe the location was CBS/MTM at 4024 Radford, North Hollywood, 2nd floor scoring building. Preprinted labels were affixed to identify boxes by numbers, and sheets were provided (more on this in the next paragraph) to write down details of the contents of each box. Four to six UCLA staff personnel processed the collection from that Tuesday thru Friday (12/2/88). The boxes were then delivered to SRLF in UCLA-owned trucks. Once a rough inventory was made of the material a week later, UCLA drew up the Deed of Gift # 1 and CBS signed it (“I do hereby irrevocably assign, transfer and give all our rights, titles, and interests of the above described property to the Regents...” etc.) and later added addendums (such as the March 7, 1989 permission to photocopy from Harry Heitzer meant for educational and/or personal research). In the letter I was told that the estimated 800 transcription discs (his rough estimate) were sent to SPFM for storage only because UCLA could not handle them at the time (busy and swamped with the 930 boxes of written scores). Since he was involved with SPFM anyway, it was a simple matter to have SPFM take possession (not ownership) of the discs as part of the “P” part of the acronym (“Preservation” of film music). The Deed of Gift # 2 came later in 1991 and was processed by someone else in charge at UCLA.

Regarding those sheets I mentioned in the above paragraph, most of each legal size page was blank to leave room for hand-written data-input. On the top left was written “UCLA Music Library The CBS Collection December 1988.” To its right is “Composer” (with “Arranger” below that) and then “Orchestrator” On the left side column is headed “Box/Folder” followed by “Title (Media/Format), Date, Cue Title.” Next to its right is “Prod.No./Show No; CBS Score No.” Then “Reel Cue No.” and then “Score/pts,” “Print Format,” “Physical Condition,” and finally in the far right is “Notes.” For example, one sheet has Boxes 42, 43, 44, 45. Next to “Box 42” it states, “Various full scores including “Against the Wall,” “Wardrobe,” “Big Jesse,” “Cattle Camp,” “The Noose,” “Pay-Off,” “Titles,” Cimarron Strip. Under the Notes heading it has written, “D.B. Ray, P. Carpenter, H. Geller, Richard Shores.” What the staff person looking at the box didn’t realize was that several of those cues (many not listed here) were composed by Bernard Herrmann for the Cimarron Strip episode, “A Knife in the Darkness.” Box 43 lists that episode and lists Herrmann as the composer (the first half of the score). The other half is in Box 42. Under “Title” for Box 43 is written, “Glad to be Home,” CIM 151-200, H. Geller.” Below that is “Cimarron Strip” with “Cyril Mockridge” listed as the composer. Then “A Knife in the Darkness” with Bernard Herrmann written in as the composer. Many times there are no specifics. For example, in the sheet that holds information on Boxes 549 thru 554, we see Box 552 simply listing “Misc. Scores, Xerox” followed by “Scores” (no notes on composers, etc.).

So the transcription discs went to SPFM instead of UCLA. A high figure of 5,000 discs was initially indicated (such as Film Music Collections in the U.S.: A Guide, edited by H. Stephen Wright). The May-June 1993 Society Newsletter claimed that there were 3,000 transcription discs, while a later issue claimed 4,000 discs. The figure may be considerably less, perhaps 800 discs (even down to just 200 discs) after I talked with various people involved. Unfortunately SPFM never did a proper inventory, so we simply do not know the precise number received.

At any rate, the primary error SPFM held was that it now owned these transcription discs rather than having mere possession. UCLA Regents were given a Deed of Gift, not SPFM. Because of this faulty belief, SPFM subsequently “donated” duplicates to the Gene Autry Museum in March 1994, proudly advertised in a SPFM newsletter (see next paragraph). Since possession does not prove ownership, this was a major “goof” on the part of SPFM management because the discs were not legally theirs to give away. The claim in a letter to me dated October 20, 1997 was that the transcription discs were held in storage by SPFM because UCLA did not have the space or the staff to take care of these materials. If that was so (just holding them in possession capacity only), this does not justify giving away at least several dozens of these UCLA-owned transcription discs to the Gene Autry Western Heritage Museum.

According to the Dec '94/Jan '95 edition of the SPFM Newsletter, "It should be noted that the Society presented duplicate acetate discs from the CBS Collection related to westerns to the Gene Autry Western Heritage Museum at the opening of SPFM's Third Annual Film Music Conference..." held March 17-21, 1994.

I contacted the assistant Director, Research Center at the Autry Museum in early 1998 to verify this information. Indeed, she sent me computer records for the first 38 discs and contents, the first two listings on the "deed of gift" given by SPFM--which is curious, as just given above, since SPFM was only in possession of the discs, not ownership. While it seems appropriate or fitting that Gene Autry would have duplicate discs of the western music, the discs are useless by themselves. The Museum should have received a copy of the Dats, in my opinion, so that the music could be heard and preserved at an alternate site (Gene Autry Museum, a private organization).

Here is an example of the disc holdings at the Gene Autry Western Museum:

As given, SPFM transferred many of the discs to the now "old" DAT (Digital Audio Tape) format by at least February 1994. In October, and specifically November 3, 1996, I requested to hear them (I was a member at the time) as an integral part of my Herrmann research, but I was ignored (in effect denied access). I sent a copy of my request to an official at SPFM, two other Trustees, two officials at UCLA, and Elmer Bernstein (then President of SPFM). No one had the courtesy of responding. I even later phoned UCLA two or three times about progress in contacting SPFM officials but it was never done. Over time I patiently kept waiting and asking again. By then I received replies but was given a run around. For example, a SPFM official told me even earlier in 1995 that the discs had not yet been transferred to Dats (but, as I found out later, they actually were transferred since February 1994). I stated that I could be of invaluable help when they make the transfer to Dats process because of my exhaustive research at UCLA since May 1989. I even made a follow-up phone message to that SPFM official 6 to 8 months later in 1995 that I would volunteer my expertise (offered again long afterward in a letter dated November 3, 1996) but the official never returned the message until nearly a year afterward (dated October 20, 1997) when the reply was that my proposal to help did not make a whole lot of sense. What would any reasonable person make of this?

Indifference perhaps or probably more the case of not knowing what they are talking about. Let me explain.

In that letter dated October 20, 1997, I was told that the transcription discs are labeled so there had not been any problem identifying the material on these discs. In actual fact, while the discs may be labeled, only the cue titles and timings and CBS Library reel designations (such as “66” for fantasy/outer space music) were given. In most cases the names of the composers were not identified. So when I received a nine-page list of Herrmann-only cues from a SPFM preservation official a year earlier of those discs transferred to Dats, a large percentage of the cues were not actually composed by Herrmann. I knew that right away based on my extensive research of the CBS Collection, and that is why I offered my help. Examples of mis-identifications by SPFM included: cue # 190 “Trouble No. 1” (actually composed by Rene Garriguenc, not Herrmann); cue # 192 “Suspense Mysterioso” (Garriguenc again); cues # 224 thru 236 (L. Rosenthal, not Herrmann); cue # 293 “Ambush # 2” (Fred Steiner, not Herrmann); cue # 1006 “Brouillard” (M. Constant, not Herrmann); cue # 1005 “Light Rain” (Constant again); #1090 series of cues (Garriguenc, not Herrmann), and so forth. So helping out with my expertise would’ve made sense—except for certain members of then SPFM management who said my original proposal to help “did not make a whole lot of sense to us.”

The same applied to the reel-to-reel tapes that the October 20 letter stated were clearly marked. Well, sometimes yes, many times no—especially in the lack of naming of composers. It depended on who was doing the labeling. Also in the letter from SPFM was the statement that it held the transcription discs all these years (nearly nine) was because UCLA did not have the space nor the staff to take care of the materials and that until recently they have the state-of-the-art SRLF. Actually SRLF was available even back then in late 1988 when the Deed of Gift # 1 and then Deed of Gift # 2 in 1991 materials were stored right there at the SRLF storage facilities. Obviously there had to be a SRLF to hold the many collections already available at UCLA for many years. There was plenty of room to put those transcriptions discs there, and plenty of time to return the discs to UCLA since many of the discs were already converted to Dats several years earlier. The conversion work was done long ago, so why keep the discs? So it is logical to contend that SPFM actually felt the discs were part of their own collection and, as given earlier, even donated excess copies to the Gene Autry Museum. UCLA (the owners of the discs and all other CBS materials) did not donate them to that Museum. And SPFM did not mention in their press release that UCLA gave them special permission to give away those discs. If UCLA had stored the transcription discs in my large garage instead of at SPFM, I would think more than twice about giving many of them away to someone else! I would have no legal right to donate property that I held in storage possession only. But SPFM at the time believed it had the power and right to do exactly that (again, logically, because management felt it owned the materials).

At any rate, I later submitted my research papers to Film Score Monthly (more on this later) for proposed publication. I corrected the Bernard Herrmann nine-page audio list mentioned above that I received by a Trustee on the Preservation Committee who initially wanted to help me (but given the thumbs down on me by a higher official and another trustee who uttered slanderous words about me—but more on this later), notifying them that 28% of the information was incorrect (not actually composed by Herrmann). So I waited the rest of 1996 and into 1997. I wrote a letter to an UCLA librarian/official directly involved with the CBS Collection dated August 15, 1997 asking him to please push the issue with SPFM and resolve the matter of getting those Dats to UCLA so that researchers can finally study them.

An official of SPFM left a phone message to me on October 14, 1997 stating that SPFM was not authorized to make copies of the Dats to anyone. I replied that this is true but UCLA is not just “anyone,” and that SPFM needs to send at least a copy of the Dats to UCLA, the rightful owner of the transcription discs (UCLA Regents were given a Deed of Gift of all of the CBS materials, not SPFM). Then I received that October 20th letter. Eventually, with more pushing by a letter campaign later in October, towards the end of 1997 a copy of the 30 Dats (there was supposed to be 40 Dats according to the December 1997 Film Music Society newsletter—so where are the other 10 Dats?) were thankfully (and finally) sent to UCLA. Incidentally, after my intensive letter campaign in the fall of 1996, the transcription discs themselves were returned to UCLA in January or February 1997. But what good are transcription discs alone since researchers could not play them at UCLA? UCLA needed the Dats or the cassette tape equivalent. I pushed for that thru 1997. In fact copies of the Dats (just 30) were given or agreed to be given to UCLA by the end of the year, according to pages 4 & 5 of the December 1997 issue of the Film Music Society Newsletter.

Still I was only allowed initially to listen to the music. At that period towards the very end of 1997, however, a game-changing event happened. I was made aware by an independent third party-collector that a member (s) of the Society was circulating copies of the CBS music to other members and/or friends for personal enjoyment. I was given a copy by that third party as proof. Perhaps it was by one lone “bad apple” trustee who had direct access of the audio. I don’t know. I suspect logically there was sharing amongst several of them (even if the majority of the Board/directors/advisors would obviously not sanction it on an official level). The instinct of most people is to share, even if improperly so, and clandestine activities are only human nature in many cases, but when the flashlight of discovery spotlights them like scurrying rats, then remedial action must be taken.

At any rate, I felt that this private sharing of CBS material was unfair, especially since SPFM stated in writing in the Film Music Collections Guide (page 3) that it would make copies available to serious researchers such as me. And I was assured back in at the end of October 1997 that it would be “impossible” for these SPFM tapes to be disseminated to collectors. At the end of December 1997 I contacted another trustee of SPFM who was directly involved with the CBS transcription discs transfer, but he clammed up and refused to give information, instead referring me to a head SPFM official for information. This dissemination of CBS material was a very serious matter. Perhaps this was a “once-only” infraction that got out of control (copy-generations down the line) but it is conceivable that there was already a practice of making copies of various unreleased audio collections and then distributing them amongst fellow trustees who in turn made copies to friends and perhaps even to collectors for trades or additions in personal collections. I don't know. All I know is that a third party collector who contacted me (because he knew I was involved with CBS Music Library research for many years) was able to get a copy of the unreleased CBS audio that directly came from the Dat conversion of the transcription discs. Apparently "insiders" shared goodies for themselves but "outsiders" (such as legitimate researchers as myself) were excluded. Personally my feeling was that if they wanted to enjoy the fruits of their efforts, fine; but then don't turn around and be prejudicial by denying access of the material to serious researchers (especially if you publicly advertise that you want to make the music available to serious researchers and Members). I had no axe to grind, but I wanted fair and equal treatment not only for myself but also for other legitimate researchers.

So now I was really fed up. I obviously could not trust the Society and what they "said" officially. So on February 16, 1998 I made a big stink about this to UCLA Music Library Special Collections and to Elmer Bernstein, then President of SPFM. I sent Bernstein an express package that had to be signed for. In it were a no-nonsense letter and a 60-minute Maxell audiocassette sample of the improper dissemination of CBS music to collectors as proof of my accusations. The source of this music was the transfer work done by SPFM 4-5 years earlier according to the May-June 1993 SPFM Newsletter. The first example I sent Bernstein was the complete transcription disc transfer of Fred Steiner's "Box o' Rocks" episode of Gunsmoke. It is an exact match with the same voiced timings and preludes as later duplicated (transferred) in Dat # 12 at UCLA. The next sample in that tape was Waxman's music to "The Raid" episode of Gunsmoke. It starts with the voiced Log 1461, September 16, 1965 of cue # 187.

According to the Deed of Gift that I read, all CBS music materials were donated to the Regents of UCLA. No exception was mentioned that SPFM would be given a piece of the pie (such as the transcription discs and 15 cartons of "mag masters"). If so, why did not SPFM show its own separate Deed of Gift from CBS? Simple, because there was no such separate Deed of Gift. UCLA did not need "permission" from SPFM to make copies of those 30 or 40 Dats. It was unbecoming for an educational charity (given such tax-exempt status by the IRS) to keep the fruits of these CBS materials to themselves. SPFM was not a private foundation (like the Gene Autry Museum) since it was a not-for-profit educational charity chartered by the State of California for tax-exempt purposes. Therefore SPFM was a public charitable entity in which the general public must be the final beneficiary (not just "in-house" Members of the Society), and collections must be open, accountable and made accessible to members and others who are serious researchers of film and TV music. My argument was that I was being given prejudicial treatment since those recipients of the CBS Dats were given tapes because they were personal friends and/or fellow members of certain Society trustees or members who had access to the collection (unlike the vast majority of SPFM members)—but I, as a bona-fide researcher and then Member of the Society, was denied such tapes. Indeed, as given earlier, SPFM had stated in writing, "We would like to make available the DAT tapes of the CBS discs to researchers...". I'd much rather focus on what is right and constructive and helpful than on what-is-wrong issues, but, under the circumstances, I had to now force the issue. Yet I explicitly added at the end of my pointed letter that "All's well that ends well.” In other words, any negative situation can be changed for the better. There is room for hope.

As hinted earlier, it came to my attention back in the fall of 1996 when all this started that one high member of SPFM had told a Trustee/Officer there (in charge or involved with the Dats) that I should not be given research access to the CBS music because I was the kind of character who would then sell those tapes to black market cd outfits! That trustee (the one who initially really wanted to help me) told me this over a phone conversation, and was told not to help me anymore. He identified that slanderer to me. I did not appreciate having my good name slurred like this so underhandedly. Also it came to my attention by this Trustee/Officer (again the one who initially wanted to help me) that there were hidden “politics” involved that would make it difficult for me to get cooperation from SPFM. Because I was associated professionally with an original Founder of SPFM, this would be construed as a negative association because there was still a feud or bad blood between these various characters within the SPFM universe (more on this later). I shook my head in disbelief. Obviously even an “educational charity” such as SPFM was not above petty politics to the extent that even an innocent third-party researcher such as me would be made to suffer. In that October 20th letter I referenced earlier by a high SPFM official, I was assured that there was no conspiracy to not help me, and that it had nothing to do with my professional relationship with a Founder of the Society that current SPFM management had bad feelings towards. Yet, as given earlier, behind the scenes I was told candidly by another SPFM official that in fact this was not true, a false assurance. There was a negative association or suspicion going on that could be a factor why I wasn’t being helped. And having another SPFM official slandering me behind my back only confirmed this active uncooperative attitude and lack of the friendly spirit of fellow comradeship in film music research.

Here is another example of small-minded pettiness or even spitefulness to prove my suspicion: Probably because of my letter campaign and “making waves,” so to speak, SPFM even returned my postal money order of $35 for the 1998 membership renewal—just returned with no note, no explanation; opened up, inserted back in my envelope and returned within a Film Music Society envelope. I shook my head in disbelief when I received it back. I wondered if they were refusing membership to anyone who openly criticized the Society? Did a public, not-for-profit organization such as SPFM have the right to refuse anyone membership who had valid criticisms? I returned the money order back to SPFM but this time certified with a return receipt. I forgot now what happened. By then I thought to myself with amusement, “Gee, I wonder if SPFM is going to scratch my name off their Christmas card list?”

Here is another example that supported my suspicions: As given earlier, I was going to have a few articles published about the CBS Collection at Film Score Monthly (sent to FSM on 2-13-97) but they were never published as planned. The official there replied to my inquiries of “what happened?” that a high official of SPFM intimidated him at a social gathering at the end of December 1997, stating that that official was pretty “harsh” and that he needed “authorization” from that official (I still have that letter detailing the encounter). This was quite laughable since SPFM had nothing to do legally with the CBS material, so no “authorization” was required. Because of the potential hassles initiated by SPFM, FSM felt disinclined to publish my articles. And the interesting point is that my first two papers had nothing to do with the issues I had with the Society regarding the CBS Dats—just exclusively focused on Bernard Herrmann research. One was a fully comprehensive “Cue Inventory” of Herrmann’s music at CBS-Television. Such “politics,” petty power tactics and intimidations are unbecoming of such people (if only one or two “bad apples”) in an educational charity.

It bears noting that I was informed from various parties involved that there was perhaps “dirty politics” involved with the ouster of one of the Founders of SPFM years earlier—a sort of “hostile corporate takeover,” as one central person involved described it, ousting an original Founder. I would love to read a detailed account of this dismissal if anyone has the courage to report it honestly. But at this late date, I doubt if that old dirty laundry will ever see the light (and fresh air) of day. I happened to be professionally involved with that individual because I was writing a research paper for his journal and, as given earlier, I was told by a Trustee/Officer of SPFM that such an association was construed as problematic.

There is an old Soundtrack issue that includes a story titled The Society for the Preservation of Film Music, an interview conversation with that founder of the Society who was ousted. At least it gives some information and insight into the matter, and I believe it was the only source of information except perhaps for some old Filmus-L archive posts (other posts—such as mine and a SPFM Founder-- were deleted by an administrator of the site who was also a Board of Director of SPFM). Unfortunately, however, Filmus-L ceased to exist a few months ago. The archive is gone too but perhaps someone will eventually put it back online. At the moment I am writing this, I do not have the precise Soundtrack issue number, nor can I find a free index to the issues (the periodical ceased to exist in 2001, I believe). The xerox pages I have did not have the issue designation on the pages. But the article appears on pages 57 thru 63.

On a side note, I also found it curious, for example, that grant money at the time was directed to create an “Executive Director” salaried position whose basic function was to raise money in a public relations fashion (fund-raising dinners, etc.) that smacks more of profit-making activity instead of being directed to preserve film music materials for tax-exempt purposes (and, by extension, allowing researchers to study them). The original articles of the Society had no such paying position titled “Executive Director.” The only officers were non-paying President, Vice-President, Secretary, and Treasurer positions. The new full-time “Executive Director” position in that 1990 and/or 1991 period had a yearly salary, I understand, of about $45,000. That is a tremendous expense for such a relatively small tax-exempt entity. Currently, according to the 2010 FSM site listing of the Board of Directors, there is a “Producing Director” position. I assume this is simply a synonymous term for the previously-named “Executive Director” position (and I assume still a paid management position).

Commentary: In my opinion, I think it was a big mistake to create this money-draining position of Executive Director. I feel that you must find people who love doing music preservation tasks and have the free time to volunteer (although not necessarily just one person doing all the work!). It would be fine for the Society to pay for materials or certain activities to do the job (such as truck rentals to haul away heavy and large research materials available for the taking such as a Studio wanting to get rid of old scores because they are, say, a fire hazard in an old studio building). I think also that the Society should give a detailed inventory of their holdings/collections online. Moreover, on another matter: Can dues-paying members actually have the power to vote? Can members vote Trustees/Officers in office and out of office, or is that "power" bestowed only to Board members? If not, in my opinion, I fear that the Founder (s) of the Society made a fundamental mistake creating such an involved entity (a sort of Frankenstein's monster that could turn against the creator/founder), especially if you end up losing control of your own creation! So, while SPFM was not a for-profit business entity but a tax-exempt nonprofit organization, it nevertheless was set up, ironically enough like a for-profit corporation, to be potentially vulnerable for a "hostile takeover" situation (as it appears what happened to an original Founder of the organization). Let me explain.

If you step down from the non-paying position of, say, the President in a nonprofit organization like SPFM and take on the paid position of being Executive Director (day to day running of the educational charity, effective fundraising to pay for the position and projects of the organization, etc.), you in effect become an employee of the organization. You are no longer a Board member but an employee, thereby subject to the rulings of the Board of Directors (employer). Directors volunteer their services, are not paid, and are not subject to the will or whims of the Chairman of the Board (usually the President, and often in the early stages also the or a Founder). If, say, a founder takes this paying non-Board position as Executive Director, it can be a potential downfall because he risks being fired (ala Donald Trump!) or voted out if the Board decides in their conception that he is not doing the "job" satisfactorily. And if people feel that you are rubbing them the wrong way, they are not likely to vote sympathetically for you. That's just normal human nature, especially when power & influence are factored in. It's best to avoid all those complications and keep the power in one's own hands (especially if it's your own "baby," so to speak). Why the By-Laws did not provide a clause or arrangement where the President and/or Founding Father can also have be a paid official of the Board, and still retain one's authority, I don't know. That oversight may have been a mistake. Perhaps such a situation is generally frowned upon in not-for-profit organizations like an educational charity, and hence not recommended or included in most standard setups.

Various people I have communicated with who were members of SPFM strongly complained about the management moves to oust that founder, and decided not to renew their membership as a protest. They also felt that the seven laudable goals of the Society were not being acted upon since then except for informational articles in The Cue Sheet (the periodical organ of the Society) on the history of film music. They objected to the hiring of a new Executive Director with a public relations background but (they felt or heard second hand from others) who had little or no interest in film music (at least at the time). They objected to the election of a tv composer as President, feeling that the position would increasingly serve as a self-aggrandizing platform to promote the professional careers of composers in the industry instead of on the original goal to preserve film music. They objected to the primary focus on annual “life achievement” award dinners that in effect serve as profit-making fund raisers (a curious dichotomy considering that SPFM was a tax-exempt nonprofit educational charity that was supposed to rely on contributions (such as members’ dues) and grants (such as the Skaggs Foundation of Oakland, California). These were their complaints around 1991, not mine, because I was not really involved in the Society beyond being a passive dues-paying member. It wasn’t until 1997-1998 that my experiences with SPFM started to become personally involved due to the CBS Collection research ties. Others also have voiced dissatisfactions with FMS, including those posting in the FSM (Film Score Monthly) Discussion Board, such as given in the April thru June 2003 archives. Some described the Society as being largely dormant, have an adversarial attitude towards collectors, having a rickety history, but seemed to improve a bit once a new President came on the scene in 2002. But even with this change many complained about the lack of timely communication & response. The timing of the beginning of the turn of events that members were disturbed about earlier and that changed the nature of the Society for them was in 1989 when a founder of the Society stepped down as President (to take the new Executive Director paid job), and the industry composer took the reins. There was a “Report on Current Issues & Proposed Plan of Action” (over thirty pages) dated June 30, 1990 that discussed various issues, notably involving that founder. Relatively soon after that, he was ousted from his own Society that he significantly established.

Now: If a grant requires matching funds (as was the $30,000 Skaggs Foundation fund) to be raised independently by the Society in order to fully receive the grant, this conditional provision would further complicate a situation. Ideally, to my mind, a grant should be “no strings attached” beyond the stated purpose of the grant, say, to physically preserve film music. A grantor foundation should not interfere with ideals of the grantee organization. This means strongly influencing it to, say, hire a full-time salaried Executive Director in order to raise money or to fulfill some sort of matching funds arrangement if the organization is tempted by the money being waved in front of its face. If I was the Founder/President of SPFM, I would’ve said (ala Sarah Palin) to Skaggs or any other such grantor with such interfering suggestions, “Thanks—but no thanks!” By the way, the fund-raising dinner benefit for John Williams raised, I believe, about $20,000. This of course would help to pay for the salaried Executive Director position that was created in part to foster public relations-style fund-raisers. Although, once again in an ideal situation, the responsibility for fund-raising should not squarely and solely on the shoulders of the Executive Director (paid or not). Perhaps there should be a general Committee in charge of that. Call it the Financial Committee, or the Fund-Raising Committee, or whatever. The primary focus on SPFM shouldn’t have to be on how to make more money! Then it begins to sound more & more like a for-profit business corporation!

And in my personal experiences as delineated above, my complaint was that current SPFM at the time seemed to practice a standing joke reference circulating amongst members and some forums—that the acronym of SPFM actually now stood for the Society for the Prevention of Film Music preservation and research!

Incidentally, there was a September 16, 1990 Los Angeles Times article on SPFM. Here's the link:

To conclude my general commentary, I will paste my old 2003 Talking Herrmann post recording FMS:

TALKING HERRMANN:

“Film Music society CD finally arrived”

[Topic #1335]

17 Apr 2003, 01:26 GMT
[Start of extended quote] :

“I posted some of my beefs about even the current incarnation of the Society at:

<http://herrmann.uib.no/talking/view.cgi?forum=thGeneral&topic=1209>

“I think the intention and ideal is good. However, the implementation of those ideals leaves me a bit under-whelmed so far at least. I remember I must've tried at least seven or eight times to get on the Society phone to join up. I had my credit card ready each time but all I ever got was that annoying tape machine message instead of getting someone "live." I needed to have some questions answered before I committed my hard-earned money. I remember Ed lamenting about how he never received replies after several months about his membership (where is the cd? when is it coming out? Etc.) There is a pronounced lack of timely communication with even this current Society. It is understandable of course if this is a purely voluntary endeavor (nobody volunteering to donate time to answer phone calls and reply in a timely manner to emails). But after my repeated attempts, I simply gave up. Alan just posted above about the same frustration with the lack of communication.

“Now: On a positive note, I think the Society deserves support for its ideals. I am willing to give it a chance. I suggest (and I discussed this twice before) quite strongly that if the Society is serious about getting new blood and support, and is sincere about wanting to really reach out to people, that they initiate a Society online discussion board (like Talking Herrmann, or Filmus-L, or the Film Score Monthly Message Board). Then there would be an immediate rush of life and timely information. Of course it would help if some individuals in the Society would contribute to posts of information, replied to gripes, etc. The old Society board members never posted on Talking Herrmann, say, and only a few very rarely (Steve Fry comes to mind) contributed on Filmus-L.....But please make it open--a "members only" condition in order to read the posts would be self-defeating. There is no need for a "Private Boys Club" in an endeavor like this. Free flow of information is necessary. I remember how I several times volunteered my services and research to the old Society regarding the CBS Material that I've researched since 1989 but was given a deaf ear. I guess there was a type of a private insiders' club within the old Society that excluded outsiders. Apparently "insiders" shared goodies for themselves but "outsiders" were excluded. Try as hard I might to hear some of their material that they accumulated (and purchased from collectors) thru certain Board members, I was always given an excuse of why I couldn't access them (although I was a member). This is strange because by its own nature, the Society was supposed to be an "educational charity" and make materials available in order for the State of California to grant it tax-exempt status. So I had to force the old Society to give a copy of their CBS dats to UCLA for researchers to study. This really pissed me off about the old Society, so naturally I am not quite so easily warming up to the new Incarnation (especially since many of the same Board members are still there) due to the phenomenon of association. So I am wondering if there will still be petty "politics" involved or excuses, etc. It was a bit of a Private Boys Club back then, and I would not tolerate that again. And I certainly would not tolerate any more bad politics that caused a sort of "hostile corporate takeover" from the original Founder(s).

“That being said, I may be willing to fork over $50 and an extra $20 for the cd and give it a try. I would be far more enthusiastic if the new Society would drastically improve on its communication area. And I would be enthusiastic if there was an online Discussion Board.”

“Filmus-L has some posts on the Society, including today:

<http://listserv.indiana.edu/cgi-bin/wa?A2=ind0304c&L=filmus-l&F=&S=&P=15187>

“I would disagree strongly from one post that the CBS music is uninteresting. Quite the contrary. Perhaps television music is not as elite (or interesting) for some people as feature film music, but these are works from the same composers. The material is generally quite excellent.

“However I agree that I would like more detailed information as to where the series is going. Will it be one disc per year? If so, that means the cost of subscription plus the cd means at least $70 per year for one cd (or even $100). That is a bit steep! Moreover, I for one (as a film music researcher) would want the Society to give a detailed inventory of their holdings/collections..... So if I become a member and request an inventory, will the Society send me the inventory? If not, why not? And can the music be researched/listened to? And exactly where and when (open hours during the week)? At any rate, I'd hate to see any such organization become a platform for private or elite collectors to get goodies and not share them freely or openly to all other members.

“Moreover, the December '97 Film Music Society Newsletter in pages 4 & 5 discussed the CBS Dats. The newsletter refers to 40 dats, yet at UCLA there are only 30 that I know of. What are those ten other dats of CBS material? That's about 20 hours of music potentially.

“No offense meant to [the new FMS President] (whom I do not know personally), but I wonder about the wisdom of letting any film composer being the President of the Society, especially a busy composer who may have very little time to devote adequately to Society needs. I would think it better to have a professional researcher/University professional or dedicated film music preservationist with enough time to handle daily Society business, detective work, etc. I liked the old name SPFM (Society for the Preservation of Film Music) better because it more clearly described the true nature of the Society. Why did they really change it to the "Film Music Society"? Was it a legal reason? Are they no longer devoted to preserving music? So is the Society more a composers' professional association than a wide-based or eclectic membership with power of voting. And that's another matter: Can dues-paying member actually have the power to VOTE? Can members vote people in office and out of office, or is that "power" bestowed only to Board members? I would rather see membership voting power.

“Once again I would strongly like to see a Film Music Society Discussion Forum. If enough paying members really want it, then it should be initiated. Put it to the vote at least. Are there any Society board members reading this? Hello? Perhaps they can respond. And let us know when the phone lines will be open for a direct call to a "live" person answering the phone about membership questions.

“If it's only one hour on a certain day of the week, then let us know what that hour is!

.....[REPLY to a poster:]”As for being a board member--like Grouch Marx, I wouldn't want to join any organization if it had me as a member! I forgot how the line exactly went! I also tend to despise "politics." Best to do pure research. And create art!” [End of quote]

[End of commentary]

As given earlier, SPFM finally did the right thing and agreed to make copies of the CBS Dats to UCLA back in late 1997. And because of the improper dissemination of the Dats music that I made a stink about in my repeated phone calls and letter campaign, an agreement was made so that I could have cassette audio copies of whatever music I needed for my research, copied from the Dat machine onto a tape machine there at UCLA Room B-425. The Dats were held just down the corridor in storage room B-426. Mainly I was interested only in the Herrmann material and some Herrmannesque Rene Garriguenc music. As given before, the transcription discs were returned earlier (somewhere) at UCLA—although it seems nobody knows where they are now! I hope they get their act together soon over there. I heard from a researcher who visited Paramount Music Library some years ago that CBS materials were actually there for some reason. This is rather curious. I even wonder if now those transcription discs that were returned to UCLA somehow ended up at Paramount? SPFM was intimately involved with activities at the Paramount music department. Perhaps I'll investigate further. Unfortunately with changes of personnel at UCLA, detailed "hands-on" information gets lost in the process. The best staff man ever on the job there when I was researching for years and who was immensely helpful to me and pleasant to know eventually left sometime in the mid-decade (he was still there at least in 2003 because that's when the Deed of Gift #2 materials, in part, were first made available, and he pulled a dozen boxes or so for me).

Right now as I write there is a temporary Reading Room right there at SRLF (Southern Regional Library Facility) where the CBS materials are stored off-site from the University proper. The address is 305 DeNeve Dr along the corner of Veterans and Montana (Montana changes to Gayley up the road). I've never been there but ideally I would love to go there and have permission to peruse all of the boxes in storage that I wanted to research for a week. Maybe in September or October when I take vacations. In the meantime, I'll see if that's possible to make such a spot inventory. If so, then I'll update this paper later in the year! I have just posted a message to the Performing Arts Library to find out:

CBS DATS

30 CBS DATS at UCLA Music Library Special Collections
(initially received from SPFM December 1997)

[Note: SPFM (Society for the Preservation of Film Music) hired audio engineer Chris Lembesis to clean and transfer the CBS transcription discs to DAT format around 1993, under the supervision or involvement of at least three members (according to the May-June 1993 SPFM NEWSLETTER). The discs were in SPFM's possession (not ownership, since UCLA was given ownership of all CBS materials under two Deeds of Gifts in 1989 and 1991). The discs were returned to UCLA in December 1997 and a copy of the DATS were made for UCLA]

Transcription Discs Examples

Here are a few examples of what was contained in some of those many transcription discs (oversized records/lps) that were crucial for CBS at the period when they relied on the discs (and also master tapes) when they wanted to fill an episode of a CBS series with "stock" music (no original music commissioned for that episode). Normally the transcription disc labels did not indicate who the composers were for the cues presented. It simply first gave the track numbers, the CBS cue numbers, the cue titles, and the durations. I'll insert the composer's name in brackets at the far right.

The following are several examples of cue sheets from the CBS series, The Twilight Zone that used “stock” CBS Music Library music for many of its episodes not commissioned for an original score. I will delete the “BKG INST” designation since it will take too much room and prevent me from listing information on one line.
